From the Executive Director

Dear Friends,

If you visit Deschutes Children's Foundation on a weekday morning, you'll find a busy, bustling community campus. With many nonprofits working in one location, there's always a mix of activity and energy. Parents escort their children to preschool hand in hand while juggling backpacks and lunchboxes. Volunteers arrive for a training meeting. A vendor is on site to handle a repair or clean up the landscaping. Staff members greet fellow partners, ready for another day of helping children and families in our community.

A culture of helpfulness is evident from the very beginning. You'll be greeted by a Deschutes Children's Foundation facility manager at the front desk who happily points you in the right direction. From there, you'll see collaboration in action as partners from different programs work together to help children and families thrive.

Thanks to your generosity, children and families find help at Deschutes Children's Foundation. When you support us, you're also helping twenty-five nonprofits in their crucial work to help over 22,000 children and families live a better life. Your gift makes our entire community healthier, happier, and better. Thank you.

Warmest wishes,

Amy Ward
Executive Director
